Although an association exists thanks to its members, it can happen to meet generous donors and benefit from the work of numerous other organizations.

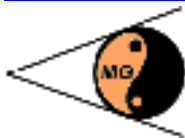

We would like to thank:

- The Ministry for Culture and Communication for its interest in ArkéoTopia's approach in the domain of transmitting knowledge and widening access to culture, which it officialized through financial support thus encouraging the association to continue its work.
- ▶ Maître Cécile Chassefeire (lawyer, specialized in association and foundation law), of the cabinet Camino Avocat for the quality of service and time passed with the association.
- ▶ Mr Jean-Claude Gransard for the interest-free loan which he granted us, allowing us to launch the association and start up our first activities.
- ▶ The company Opale for the gift of two computers thanks to which we were able to put this site online and supply a Mac environment for our volunteers to work on.

- ▶ Ms Carol Osborne (freelance translator) for the quality of her service and time spent translating a large number of articles on ArkéoTopia's website, the association's research articles published in peer-reviewed journals and correspondence addressed to our anglophone colleagues working within heritage and archaeological research.
- ▶ The company MG Consultants for the gift of a video-projector thanks to which will be able to complete the development of our education program and for occasional access to a room.
